FAIR AND CAMBIDY.

Thursday's Leader has the fol-

Senator Fair was influential enough with the President, to segure a lucrative and honorable pesition for his private secretary, Geo. W. Merrill, but his influence if used in that direction, was not powerful enough to secure the Railroad Commissionership for Mr. Cassidy. It is more than possible that Senator Fair has concluded to tetire Mr. Cassidy from the Democratic politics of Nevada. Many know it has been rumored that the Senator failed to appreciate, or rather, did appreciate its true value, the services of Mr. Cassidy in the election at which he was elected to the Senate. The fact that the Senator's $25,000 spent in Eureka county was so adroitly handled that the Senator's Legislative ticket was beaten with a single exception, while the Congressional candidate received an overwhelming majority, may have never been explained to his complete satisfaction. But there were other and probably more potent reasons in the mind of the President why the ex-Congressman of Navada should not be appointed to any important position. Among others, two are particularly noticable. One is that Cassidy had no war record on the side of the ex-Confederacy, and the other is that his name might have raised in the mind of the President a suspicion that there was something Irish about him. One of the first acts of the President was to conspicuously post a placard, "No Irish need apply," and for the first thirty days of his administration he has not violated his resolution to keep them out. If Mr. Cassidy's biography had begun like most of the successful applicants for places under the present administration, by recounting the fact that early in 1860 he was conspicuous in his advocacy of the rights of the South to accede, that he early joined the rebel army and served with distri-tinguished gallantry until the final tinguished gallantry until the final Appointment there would have been semething in that likely to tuch the soul of the President. The ex-Congressman was seriously handicaped by unreasonable political associates, an unhappy name and a most unfortunate lack of war record.

U. S. Blue Book-1885, A Register of U. S Offices and Salaries in every State, Territory and Foreign Country, issued by C. H. Pettit & Co. Publishers Washington, D. C. 190 pages, price 50cts.

This is the most extensive compendium of information respecting the Government patronage from the latest Statutes of Congress and official reports of the Interior Department, and is not to be classed with the inferior pamphlets offered for sale. It is a valuable reference and important and reliable information not embraced with in the limits of any other work.

A Georgia paper is responsible for the following: A gentleman who is well versed in regard to cattle says that after the sap rises in the Spring, cattle driven from north to south at a distance of thirty miles or more are sure to die, but those driven from south to north will not die, but the cattle they come in contact with will die. Driving them east and west has no effect on them.

The "immorality" of rollerskating rinks is much condemned in the East. A bill has been introduced in the Minnesota Legislature to prohibit the mingling of the sexes on the floor of rinks. If this should become a law, rollerskating would be ended in Minnesota. But it is scarcely credible that any such idiotic measure will be adopted.

The Springfield Republican attributed the appointment of Judge Phelps to the English mission largely to the influence of Trenmor W. Park. The New York Sun expresses some doubt as to the correctness of the statement, for the reason that Trenmor W. Park has been dead for two years.

It has been decided by a St. Louis judge that three chromos, a bust of Longfellow and an oil painting worth $6 may legally con. stitute an "art parlor," but it's rather a close shave-

Ella Wheeler Wilcox, after a reent visit to the city of New Orleans, wrote these striking lines, which we find republished in the Picayune:
